Foreword

Antiquity lends a charm to even the most sacred elements of life. Jesuit Education is no growth of yesterday, but from Bienville to Long is found on almost every page of Louisiana History. The Wolf of 1930 celebrates this year the Silver Jubilee of its most recent venture by recalling a few landmarks of history.

First New Orleans Residence of Jesuits,
Bienville and Chartres Streets.

Dedication

Since the ideal of education is to inspire students with a purpose that shall produce a consecration to God and their fellow-men, we dedicate our 1930 year book to one who is an example of both, a follower of his Master, a student of his Science, a devoted worker for his fellow-men,

DR. JAMES T. NIX

Father John Souel, Slain 18th December, 1729, Teaches Yazoos.

Father Mathurin, 1738, teaches children of caretakers of Jesuit Plantation.

It's the Set of the Sails

*One ship drives east, another drives west,
While the selfsame breezes blow;
It's the set of the sail, and not the gale,
That guides them where they go.*

*Like the winds of the seas are the waves of fate
As we voyage along through life;
It's the set of the soul that decides the goal,
And not the winds of the strife.*

ADMINISTRATION

□ THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE □

To the Students and Graduates of Loyola—Greetings and Best Wishes:

Your life will be successful if your education has been thorough and sound. Loyola's ideal is to furnish you with the opportunity of such an education and with the environment and atmosphere which will help to its realization.

Sound education is a growth from within—you must educate yourself. It cannot be thrown about you as a cloak; it must be part and parcel of yourself, resulting from inner assimilation and development. Your mind becomes clear and strong by personal mental effort; your will becomes effective by decision; your faculties become valuable instruments by continual use and training—but the real force which produces these lasting results is yourself, your own determination, your willingness to labor in the library, the laboratories, the classrooms.

Let me hope that you have appreciated your opportunities and have made yourself strong in mind and soul and character, for education should produce a perfect man.

Loyola

*The cry of guns on Pampeluna's height
Drowned the death rattle.
Stronger than sound, his heart above the fight,
He braved the battle—
Loyola!*

*Still Pampeluna stands, still raves the storm,
Still cannons hurled,
But follow we thy spirit and thy form,
To brave the world—
Loyola!*

*Science our shield, our sword is love, our merit
On God relies.
In the everlasting war, behold, the spirit
Never dies—
Loyola!*

Does It Pay?

*If one poor burdened toiler o'er life's road
Who meets us by the way
Goes on, less conscious of his galling load,
Then life, indeed, does pay.*

*If we can show one troubled heart the gain
That lies always in loss,
Why, then, we, too, are paid for all the pain
Of bearing life's hard cross.*

*If some despondent soul to hope is stirred,
Some sad lip made to smile,
By any act of ours, or any word,
Then life has been worth while.*

Radio Station W-W-L LOYOLA UNIVERSITY

Students, alumni and friends of Loyola University have good reason to be proud of this great Southern institution of learning. Standing foremost in all branches of the arts and sciences it teaches, there is yet another field of endeavor that places Loyola University foremost among the universities of the world.

March 31, 1930, marks the eighth anniversary of broadcasting station WWL, now ranking among the mightiest broadcasting stations of the world. Truly WWL is the pioneer broadcasting station of New Orleans, having successfully broadcast the first musical program given in the Crescent City from the old studio in Marquette Hall on March 31, 1922.

From its humble beginning, with an estimated power of ten watts, the station has grown with the art of broadcasting, the first increase being to one hundred watts, and on July 3, 1928, the power was increased to five hundred watts. At this time the programs were increased in number and importance until, November 11 of the same year, the Federal Radio Commission granted this rapidly rising station a cleared national channel and an increase of power to five thousand watts, placing this station among the leaders in the art of broadcasting. A minimum schedule of twenty-two hours a week is now maintained, and this schedule is being increased as rapidly as possible.

Service to the public is the keystone upon which the programs are built. Educational features of great interest presented by authorities on the subjects comprise a goodly portion of the schedule. Musical programs are of the highest type obtainable, with a goodly share that are of popular appeal. Famous musicians of international fame have broadcast from this station, as have the hottest of hot dance orchestras. From the humble beginning, when a phone call from Algiers was considered real DX, the station has grown and spread its message until we now receive mail from every state in the Union, Canada, Mexico, Central and South America, and even that little speck in the middle of the Pacific ocean made famous by its grass skirts and the ukelele writes: "Just a line to let you know I pick you up frequently and enjoy your programs very much. Comes in fine. Request a schedule of your broadcasts. Aloha." (Signed) Chas. C. Smith, Seventy-second Squadron, Luke Field, Honolulu, Hawaii. This, in brief, is the story of WWL.

Besides the two spacious studios in Bobet Hall, remote control lines are maintained to the Church of the Most Holy Name of Jesus, Marquette Hall, Loyola Stadium, the New Orleans Safety Council, and the Restaurant de la Louisiane.

Due credit for the success of the station must be given to Rev. Father F. D. Sullivan, S.J., president of Loyola University, and the authorities of the university for their wisdom, vision, and forethought in undertaking so enormous a project; the Alumni Association, which assisted with the financing; to Rev. Father O. L. Abell, S.J., director and engineer in charge, who guides the destinies of the station; and to Jean Pasquet, better known as "Jack," who is announcer, program director, and business manager.

To the many artists who have so generously given their time and talents to make this station what it is, we give our sincerest thanks and appreciation. Without their assistance in past and in future, these great things could not have been accomplished.

Beaubois, S.J., 1728-1763, success-

Clark D. Shaughnessy

HEAD FOOTBALL COACH

The South's greatest offense coach had his hands full during the 1929 season trying to build a team out of green material, after losing fourteen lettermen in '28, with jinx after jinx hanging on his trail. In spite of the many handicaps faced in 1929 Shaughnessy, the Old Fox, is more determined than ever to produce a winning combination. Only brainy men can learn the art of football that he teaches. His system is absolutely complete and fool-proof. With any kind of fair break his football is bound to win games.

Shaughnessy works his team from trick formations, trick shifts, etc. He specializes in the open game, always the most thrilling to the fans, and the most interesting. The forward pass and end run, with an off tackle slant occasionally, are his favorite modes of offense. His ability to size up his players is almost uncanny. Linemen are often converted into backs, and vice versa. The Old Fox seems to know exactly where they fit.

The big point in his favor, and the reason why his '30 season should be successful, is the great popularity he enjoys with his present men. They respect the fact that he is a true sportsman, and a truly remarkable coach. His coaching ability has reflected nothing but admiration in the eyes of the men he will coach in 1930. No greater compliment can be paid a coach by his players.

Tad Gormley

TRAINER; BASKETBALL, BOXING, AND TRACK COACH

Tad is the man responsible for the physical condition of the football men. He is the man charged with the duty of repairing bruised and sprained limbs, lame shoulders, and the like. Tad is generally recognized throughout the South as the best trainer in the Southern colleges. Besides being trainer, Tad coaches as fine a track squad as there is in the South.

SPORTS SYLLABI

By BOB AINSWORTH

Loyola did not have what might be called a highly successful season on the grid in 1929. Any team that loses fourteen lettermen (count 'em: Miller, Moore, Ritchey, Budge, Drouilhet, Cooper, Weddle, Jaubert, Decell, Keiffer, Maitland, Pourciau, Cotten and Kreider) could hardly be expected to have a world-beating team, when such a great amount of rebuilding must be done in one season. Four games were won—St. Edward's, Rice, Haskell, and Springhill; five were lost—Ole Miss, Detroit, Loyola of Chicago, Butler, and Centenary; two were tied—Oglethorpe and Loyola of Chicago. Coach Shaughnessy took his green material and moulded it as best he could, which is the very best, sprinkled it with a few veterans, and said a prayer that the boys would survive the season. They did survive, and with a spirit that would do honor to anybody's Alma Mater.

Now to get down to the excuses. No team in Loyola history has been made to face such terrible odds as the 1929 squad. Old Man Weather was the most frequent jinx encountered during the season. We believe those men who fought so hard that Loyola might have a winning team should have the truth told for them. The wet ball on the night of the Oglethorpe game kept the Wolves from winning. Detroit was a team of man-killers, not having been beaten in three seasons. The first Loyola of Chicago game was played in a cloudburst, with mud and slush six inches deep on the field. The second Loyola of Chicago game was played on a field almost as soft, and in freezing cold. Butler was played in the Northland, with the thermometer reading 10 degrees, and on an ice (read it again, ICE) covered field. Centenary was played after a long rain that subsided only after the end of the first quarter. You may object that both teams were handicapped—Loyola and the enemy. But Loyola is renowned for its fast, slashing attack, for her running plays, for her forward passes. Loyola plays an entirely open game, which is impossible under such continued bad weather.

Should we look for more pleasant results in the '30 season? We honestly believe so. The weather cannot possibly be worse. And we have a team on paper that should at least equal that of last year. Blasi and Mock are likely ends, Chacere and Wheeler should be tackles, Sehr and Tujague will be guards, Smith or Flynn at center, completes the line. In the backfield Heier and Tetlow will furnish the two halves, Arnaud Lopez or Juge full, and Zelden, quarterback, completing the team. A mighty good set of reserves will be on hand if anything happens. We are hoping for the best in 1930, and what's more, we believe that we'll get the best.

The Players as We Saw Them

CAPTAIN "BRUTE" GALLE

"Brute" could not avoid a repetition of injuries he received in the 1928 season, and consequently hurt his bad knee again in 1929. He was greatly handicapped by this weak limb, and was kept out of several games because at best he could only hobble. In spite of this "glass" leg, Galle played one of the hardest and best seasons of his career. Naturally tall and strong, he showed the fans some tackling worthy of a Wolf captain. Galle in the line-up meant trouble for opposing ball carriers. A real leader and true sportsman, Loyola regrets that Galle will no longer play her football game at tackle.

ALTERNATE CAPTAIN JUNIOR LOPEZ

One of the greatest quarterbacks in the history of Southern football has written "fitis" to a brilliant career as quarterback of the Wolfpack. He's Junior Lopez, whom Coach Shaughnessy declares is one of the brainiest football men he has ever seen. Lopez completely mastered the Shaughnessy style of football, an art in itself, and conducted his team just as the coach would have conducted it had he been playing quarterback. Rain, snow, ice, and cold experienced at most of the 1929 games prevented Junior from showing how true a forward passer he is. Besides running the team, Junior carried the ball now and then for long gains. His specialty was broken-field running.

CLEM H. SEHRT

The strongest man in the line, with the most fight, is the big blond-headed Dutchman, Clem H. Sehrt. And you'd never think it if you knew what the "H." in his name stood for. You've heard a lot about the proverbial "stone wall," but if one ever existed in human flesh, Sehrt is the person. Clem H. gets his power from working in a bakery shop, and from arguing with his law professors. He's just as aggressive in his studies as he is in his football, and that's some aggressive. Clem H. will be in the line at guard again in 1930, and will make a name for himself that will be remembered as long as Loyola produces football teams.

JOE TETLOW

We predicted in the '29 Wolf that Joe was destined to be another "Bucky" Moore, and, though that's asking plenty of a player, Joe has just about come up to our expectations. He' was the chief ground gainer for Loyola during the entire season, and ran the opposition's ends crazy. He gets away like a shot, beats it around the end so fast that the opposition can't see him, and heads on his way to the last white mark for the things that count—touchdowns. With a little more weight to help him in his defensive game, Tetlow would be an all-American. As it is, he's good enough to play on anybody's team, and he'll be back with us again next year to throw more terror into the eyes of visiting teams.

The Players as We Saw Them

JOE BLASI

"It's in the basket!" yells the crowd when a forward pass is hurled through the air at "Mussolini Joe." And it usually is. "He'll never pass 'Mussolini Joe!'" they yell again, when an opposing back heads toward Blasi's end. And they seldom pass him. The big Yankee wop from Brooklyn is the answer to a coach's dream for an ideal blocker, tackler, and receiver of passes. Besides these qualifications, "Mussolini Joe" possesses the ideal football temperament—he is always cool and collected.

MARVIN CHACERE

Playing his first year on the varsity squad, Marvin quickly proved to Coach Shaughnessy that he was good enough to play at least a part of every game. The fact is, he played the greater part of each game. Naturally, Chacere appeared green at first, but has since learned how to take out men who boxed him out of plays. He is one of the hardest and fiercest tacklers on the team, and should be a regular tackle in the 1930 season.

"SCARY" FANNIN

Fannin is another sophomore star. He earned his position on the team immediately because of his ability to receive passes and punt; especially because of the punting. He kept the opposition deep in their own territory, because he could boot the skin for forty-five, fifty and fifty-five yards consistently, and with any kind of ball, wet or dry. "Scary" played offensive fullback and defensive end. It is still uncertain whether Fannin will be eligible to return next year. Loyola stands to lose one of its most valuable men if he is declared ineligible.

TOM BRIDGES

Tom was the best blocker on the team, and ran most of the interference for the offense. He is also a sophomore back. Tom made such a reputation as a frosh ball carrier that cognizance had to be taken of his ability. A big, husky boy, Tom was the tower of strength in the secondary defense. When asked to carry the ball he smashed the line like nobody's business, always being good for that extra two or three yards necessary for first down. Besides being one of the best football players, Tom is the best-looking man on the team. Some big motion picture company is being cheated out of a potential star.

"BUD" LURRY

"Bud" quit football in '28, but came right back in '29, and after he had gotten onto the ways and means of playing football again, he was given the position he loves—fullback. He played a bang-up line-plunging game, and an even better defensive game, being a fierce and vicious tackler. "Bud" was another victim of the bad leg epidemic which struck the Wolf camp. This leg greatly handicapped him, but few knew how bad the injury was from the manner in which he played football.

The Players as We Saw Them

LEON TUJAGUE

Tujague is the big, heavy guard who completes the job with Schrt and Smith of holding down the center of the line. Leon is the quiet steady sort of player, never making much of a show of himself, but still holding that guard position against anybody and everybody. He is perhaps one of the strongest men on the team. His real power has never been really tried.

"PEE WEE" ALLEN

Positively the quietest man on the squad—and yet the most vicious tackler, according to his own coach's word. Even in scrimmage the backs hate to run into "Pee Wee." He tackles so hard that the backs think the world has been picked up and thrown at them. Allen will be missed when practice starts for the '30 season. He was one of the cleanest, most gentlemanly football men ever to wear a Maroon and Gold jersey. His work at end and tackle will long be remembered by Loyola supporters.

BOB SMITH

The third of the Smith brothers—the Smiths of football fame—has at last earned the honor of being ranked alongside the other two Smiths, who helped write Loyola gridiron history. Bob is a pivot man de luxe, a perfect passer, and equally good defensive man. He will be back with us in '30, and will surely be heard from.

"BUM" HEIER

This is the other half of the Heier-Tetlow mustang combination. He is the big ground gainer for the Wolfpack, possesses almost unlimited speed and more power than Tetlow, because he weighs quite a bit more. "Bum" is a gentleman on and off the field, and his nickname is most misleading. If his trick ankle stands up all right in '30, "Bum" will continue the fine work begun in '29.

LOU PESKIN

Lou is the big, hard-driving man-eater, who alternates with Lurry and Juge at fullback on offense, and plays a fine defensive end. Being a heavy, stocky-built man, he is naturally fitted for the position at full. He packs a world of drive, hits low and hard, and is always good for those three yards expected of good fullbacks. Lou will be back again this year, and will make the boys hustle again for that fullback job.

RAY MOCK

Ray joined the varsity during the '29 season with the squad already possessing such good ends as Blasi and Allen. But he rushed those boys for the position, and played in enough games to win his letter at this position. He is a splendid receiver of forward passes and a good defensive man. The experience gained last year will do a lot toward winning the place left vacant by the graduation of Allen.

The Players as We Saw Them

"JUG" JUGE

"Jug's" fine defensive play at fullback has kept him in the line-up for some few minutes in each game. When the opposition got within the Loyola 20-yard stripe, and showed signs of continuing onward, "Jug" was called out by Coach Shaughnessy to re-enforce the secondary. Of course touchdowns were scored on Loyola, plenty of them, but if there had been eleven "Jugs" on the field there would have been fewer scores. He will also be back, and with more weight, may win the regular fullback berth.

CHARLIE KELLAR

Here's a boy who really loves his Alma Mater. And how he does fight for her! When the regular tackles show signs of wilting in goes Keller, who usually stops the march over his tackle. Charlie is the fast, charging sort of lineman. He goes after his man, instead of waiting for him. A trick knee stole Kellar's chances of being a regular.

"CAT" SIMMONS

"Cat" had to wait until his last year to get his chance, but when it came he took advantage of it, and earned his letter. The big heavy teams played by the Wolves throughout the season ruined a lot of good linemen, and Simmons was called on. He made the fans forget some of their early season favorites, and played the line like the football player he had wanted to be two years ago. Loyola regrets losing a character of the type of Simmons. He was always for Loyola, win, lose or draw. What more could Loyola ask?

TYNES MIXON

Tynes was Shaughnessy's handy man, and was used all over the line to fill vacancies caused by injuries, or to stop the enemy when death charges were made against the Loyola forward wall. He is a big, rangy man, with plenty of strength and the determination that says, "They shall not pass."

BILL FLYNN

Flynn is the fighting Irishman from Texas who plays center with Bob Smith. A natural-born fighter, he helps keep up the spirit of the line, when times look worse for the forward wall. Bill is only a sophomore, and has his football career ahead of him. He played in enough games to gain the experience necessary, has received his baptism of fire, and will make things lively around the center of the line of '30.

MCGHEE MOORE

"Bucky" Moore's little brother is like him in many respects. He gets away fast, and runs like a startled deer. But Mickey lacks the weight, and for that reason did not win a berth on the big squad. Now that Junior Lopez has finished his career as a football player, Mickey will have his opportunity of showing Coach Shaughnessy that he won't have to look far for a new quarterback.

JOHNNY OULLIBER

Johnny also faced the task of displacing Junior Lopez at quarterback, a virtual impossibility, with Junior's knowledge of Shaughnessy football. Oulliber was very light as a freshman, but has added some flesh, and will also be heard from when a call is made for the new Wolf quarterback. He is the brainy sort of player, is a good forward passer, and does some punting. Johnny will bear watching in '30.

The Players as We Saw Them

LYN CARPENTER

Lyn is a fine ball carrier and a good defensive man, but couldn't break into big time because there were so many other good backs with a little more experience and with plenty more weight. Lyn has had his hard knocks, but has come up with the fight, which proves the man.

BOB MORRIS

It was Bob's first year on the varsity squad, and consequently he had little chance of displacing such guards as Sehrn and Tujague, who had gained the experience of an extra year's play. Morris was an all-prep man at Jesuits, knows plenty of football, and is strong. He will play plenty of football this year as a Wolf lineman.

"IKE" FAVALORA

"Ike" is another guard who had to be content with a reserve position in the face of Sehrn and Tujague. It was his first year on the varsity, and he has plenty of time yet to gain the experience and weight necessary to win a regular position for himself.

LUKE BABIN

Luke is a good end, can receive passes, and plays his position defensively, but Loyola already had four good ends and he had to be a reserve. Until one day Coach Shaughnessy discovered he could block, and he was transferred to the backfield, where he showed well as a sub back. Luke has left school, and with his departure goes a mighty good football player and cartoonist. He drew the Wolf subdivision cartoons. The editor and coach both regret that he has left us.

AL FITZWILLIAM

Al is the third Wolf center, and a mighty good one. What he lacks in weight he makes up in fight. Being an Irishman, of course, that is to be expected. He was used in some few games, and would have been used more at center, only the first requisite of a regular center is weight, and gobs of it.

"VAC" VACARRO

Here is one of the fastest men on the team, but also the lightest. When loose, this youngster is unstoppable, tacklers simply can't get their hands on him. But besides being fast, and being a good ball carrier, a coach must require that a man be hefty, and Vac had little chance to star.

"MICKY" PHELAN

Another Irishman from Texas, and consequently a fighter. Mickey longed to play end, but there were just five more ends—Blasi, Allen, Mock, Fannin, and Babin, so the going was tough. Mickey played in his share of the games, and proved particularly adept at snagging passes.

REVIEW OF 1929 SEASON

LOYOLA ROMPS OVER FAST ST. EDWARD'S TEAM, 18-0

GAME IS PLAYED AT NIGHT UNDER HUGE FLOODLIGHTS

LOYOLA STADIUM, Sept. 21.—(WP)—Ten thousand cheering spectators, the largest opening football crowd in Loyola history, tonight witnessed the novelty of the old gridiron game being played under huge floodlights, and saw a brand-new Wolfpack decisively defeat the fast St. Edward's Micks from Austin, Texas, by the neat score of 18 to 0.

Loyola started strong as if she intended to make quick work of the contest, Junior Lopez's 11-yard race around end netting the initial touchdown after but half of the first period had been played. The fast attack was soon slowed to a walk by frequent penalties against the Pack for clipping and holding. But in the third quarter a long bullet, heave from Lopez to Blasi for 14 yards and a 40-yard run by the big Yankee behind beautiful interference brought another score. Pee Wee Allen knocked two Micks dizzy to clear the way for Blasi, who had nearly been overhauled. This was easily the outstanding play of the evening and it brought the ten thousand customers to their feet with a roar that shook the rafters of the stadium.

Coach Shaughnessy showed a young team which is apt to do big things this season on the grid. The teamwork was there, together with spirited fight and aggressive-ness in the line.

A MIGHTY WOLF OFFENSE OVERPOWERS THE RICE OWLS

TETLOW AND HEIER STAR WITH LONG RUNS

LOYOLA STADIUM, Sept. 27.—(WP)—An untamed Loyola Wolfpack was unleashed upon a stubborn band of Rice Owls from Houston, Texas, here tonight, and the Wolves spread Owl feathers all over the grid, subduing the birds under an overwhelming 33 to 0 score.

Coach Shaughnessy trotted out his fast mustang backs, Tetlow and Heier, one at a time to show off. An early fumble made the Wolves a bit nervous, but Tetlow shook himself loose from Owl tacklers late in the first quarter, and ran all the way down to the goal posts 32 yards, while the Loyola adding machine clicked six times. Joe was away so quickly and covered the distance in such a hurry that the Owls got nary a hand on him.

Then they put Joe in the stables and led out Bum Heier, who fairly went crazy. After a steady march down the field, Lopez called the Bum's number, and the Bum tore through tackle for 11 straight yards as the adding machines registered again. In a few minutes more the Bum snatched a pass from Fannin and ran 45 yards to the last lined mark, but the adding machine failed to click. The referee thought Bum stepped out on the 15, and referees have the last guess. Bum came right back in the third period, intercepted a pass and scampered 60 yards to score.

These boys, Chacere and Flynn, sophs, both played the game in the Rice backfield. And "Little" Allen at end made the Owls wish that he had stayed at home and listened to the radio.

THE WOLVES HELD TO SCORELESS TIE BY OGLETHORPE BAD BREAKS KEEP LOYOLA FROM WINNING

LOYOLA STADIUM, Oct. 11.—(WP)—A fiery team of Oglethorpe Petrels, fresh from a victory over Georgia last week, held the Loyola Wolves to a scoreless tie here tonight in one of the most fiercely contested games ever waged on Loyola Field.

Defeat for the Petrels seemed inevitable in the face of a driving Loyola offense. But a line which fought like the Petrels, for which they are named, some terrible passing from center, and a wet pigskin combined forces against the Wolfpack—a force too great to overcome. Loyola gained 216 yards from scrimmage to a mere 95 by Oglethorpe, but when the Wolves got down to the edge of the goal line they stopped against an Oglethorpe wall. Bad passes from center finished the job.

Twice the Wolves came within an ace of breaking the deadlock. In the second period they brought the ball down to the one-yard line, where Lopez tried twice and Bridges once to put it over. A bad pass from center on fourth down ended the opportunity. In the final minutes of the game Heier broke through tackle and raced down the right sidelines for 50 yards before Herrin downed him on the 4-yard line. Three successive line plays failed to dent the strong Oglethorpe line, and another bad pass from center took away the last Loyola chance of winning.

Frequent fumbling of the slippery ball by Loyola backs kept the Pack constantly on the defense in their own territory. Only a courageous line held the speedy Oglethorpe backs who constantly threatened to break through for long dashes.

OLE MISS BEATS LOYOLA IN GREAT OFFENSIVE BATTLE MARGIN OF KICKED GOALS AFTER TOUCHDOWN WINS

LOYOLA STADIUM, Oct. 18.—(WP)—The mighty Mississippians from Oxford, Miss., ran into an equally mighty Loyola Wolfpack here tonight, and when the smoke of the greatest offensive football game ever played on a local grid had cleared, the Ole Mississippians were on top by a narrow margin of two kicked points after touchdown. The final score, after an orgy of touchdowns, was 26-24.

What a game!—that was the consensus of opinion among every one of the ten thousand nerve-wrecked spectators—a game that was at issue until the referee blew the final whistle—a game that thrilled as only great offensive football can thrill.

Ole Miss brought a human battering ram in Woodruff. He broke through Loyola's line as if it were made of tissue to tally first downs one after another—finally totaling twenty with the aid of his mates. But the Wolves made fifteen first downs to display their driving power. And that's some football, thirty-five first downs in a single game.

Loyola started off to an early lead when Joe Tetlow broke through and raced sixteen yards for a touchdown. Lopez failed to kick goal. In a few minutes the Mississippians had the ball and how they did charge. They ran the ends wild to score and take the lead when Wilcox kicked goal. In another few minutes Joe Tetlow was loose again—this time for fifty-three yards and another score. Loyola again failed to kick goal. Woodruff then took command for Ole Miss, drove through for two more touchdowns and Mississippi was never headed.

What a fight Loyola made in an attempt to come back! The Wolves matched Ole Miss in touchdowns, 4 to 4, but that little extra point after touchdown proved to be the difference between two never-say-die teams. Joe Tetlow's brilliant runs, Junior Lopez' coolness under fire and Bud Lurry's defensive ball, stood out as the Loyola features.

DETROIT TEAM OVERPOWERS FIGHTING LOYOLA ELEVEN HEROIC DEFENSIVE PLAY BY WOLVES STANDS OUT

DETROIT, MICH., Oct. 26.—(WP)—A much heavier Detroit team completely overpowered the Loyola Wolves of New Orleans here this afternoon, winning by the crushing score of 20-6. But it wasn't until the beginning of the fourth quarter that the extra weight advantage enjoyed by Detroit began really to be felt.

Loyola held the Titans to a 6-0 score for the first three periods, but at this stage Lloyd Brazil, Detroit's All-American halfback, swung his mates into action, and two more touchdowns were scored before the final whistle. However, no one of the Detroit scores was made after a sustained march. The first touchdown came after a partially blocked punt by Fannin went out of bounds on the Loyola 23-yard line. The second was made possible by the recovery of Tetlow's fumble on Loyola's 17-yard line, and the third was made in the last period when Ross got loose while returning Fannin's punt for forty yards to the Wolf 15-yard line.

Loyola scored her only touchdown in the last period when Fannin intercepted a pass and stepped over the line just as he was met by an avalanche on Titan tacklers.

The defensive play of Brute Galle, Bud Lurry and Junior Lopez featured the heroic battle put up by the Wolfpack.

LOYOLA REPULSES INDIAN ATTACK BY SCORE OF 19-12

GENERAL JUNIOR LOPEZ HERO OF DEFENDERS

LOYOLA STADIUM, Nov. 2.—(WP)—Loyola's Wolfpack gamely defended Loyola stadium against an Indian raid this afternoon and turned back the Haskell Redskins by a convincing and decisive 19-12 score.

Only the magnificent courage of General Lopez, fighting quarterback, prevented the Loyola forces from being beaten. Haskell, with a dazzling array of fast, heavy, line plungers had almost captured the fort with a touchdown in the second period. But General Lopez sent his men right back at the Indians and hurled a 15-yard pass to Scary Fannin for a touchdown. Then he drew back his left arm and pitched one to Tom Bridges to tally the extra point and place Loyola in the lead.

From then on a steady stream of re-enforcements held the fort well protected, though a Redskin menace, Weller, called by his fellows quite appropriately the "Little Rabbit," constantly threatened to break through. He gave Lopez a close call for individual honors, and duplicated the Loyola General's 55-yard run after intercepting an Indian pass with an equally sensational run of fifty yards after catching a Loyola punt.

At this point General Lopez determined to rout the Indians, and he did by shooting Tom Bridges around left end for thirty-four yards and the final touchdown.

THE TWO LOYOLAS BATTLE TO TIE IN A SEA OF MUD

ENTIRE GAME IS PLAYED IN STEADY DOWNPOUR

LOYOLA STADIUM, Nov. 11.—(WP)—Battling in a sea of mud, with rain coming down in torrents throughout the entire game, two brilliant Loyola teams, one of New Orleans, the other from Chicago, played a 6-6 tie here tonight.

The game climaxed an Armistice Day celebration held in the stadium and turned out to be a fight between two mighty offensive armies on a veritable No Man's Land in mud and slush so deep that real football playing was impossible.

Chicago started off in the first period as if they intended to make quick work of the contest. Taking the ball on their own 33-yard line, the Ramblers from the North with an all-Irish backfield, Collins, Molloy, Burke and Flynn, pounded at the New Orleans line and worked the ball down to the 10-yard line where Flynn slid over. The game see-sawed for the remainder of the half with neither side able to do anything in the Loyola Lake.

New Orleans placed an inspired team on the lake in the second half, and within a few minutes Bud Lurry carried the oval twenty-five yards to the 3-yard line, where Lopez plunged over to know the score.

Chicago lost a beautiful opportunity to break the deadlock with but a minute to play and two yards to go for a touchdown. But the Wolves held and the whistle blew as soon as the play had been completed, ending the game.

WOLVES BEAT SPRINGHILL FOR CATHOLIC CHAMPIONSHIP

TETLOW, LOPEZ AND LURRY STAR FOR LOYOLA

LOYOLA STADIUM, Nov. 24.—(WP)—The power of a mighty Loyola offense could not be denied when the Wolves met the best Springhill team that Mobile has ever sent over to New Orleans here tonight. Loyola won decisively by a 20 to 0 score and with the victory went the Catholic college championship of the South.

However, the score does not at all indicate how close and hard-fought was the game. Springhill gave Clark Shaughnessy, the Loyola wizard, plenty to think about before the evening's entertainment was ended. Junior Lopez' sensational 47-yard sprint through the entire Springhill eleven in the second quarter for a touchdown was the only thing that separated Springhill from Loyola for three periods. But then the Badgers weakened, lost courage and the Wolves scored two more in rapid succession to total twenty points.

Joe Tetlow, fleet, little Loyola back, celebrated the announcement of his graduation into the ranks of the benedicts by magnificent play. He featured one long run after another, his 43-yard dash around end in the third quarter standing out. Together with Lopez and the spirited line plunging of Bud Lurry, the Wolves were unstopable after they got started.

Springhill showed a quartet of fine backs in Aitkens, Mattina, Bilgere and Bel-lande. With more help from the line, the Badgers might have made things more dangerous for the Orleanians.

Nine thousand shivering spectators witnessed the game under the floodlights.

BUTLER RUNS WILD OVER LOYOLA IN THE NORTHLAND

GAME IS PLAYED ON ICE COVERED GRIDIRON

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., Nov. 28.—(WP)—On a field covered with ice and snow, and with the thermometer reading 10 degrees F., the Loyola Wolfpack lost to Butler University's Bulldogs here today by the overwhelming score of 33-13.

Two burly Butler giants, "Curly" Hinchman and John Cavosie, did not seem to mind the bitter cold, and certainly their play was not handicapped by it. They ran completely roughshod over the demoralized Wolves and were never stopped.

The Pack was getting used to the conditions toward the beginning of the last period and showed some of the football they are capable of playing. An 86-yard drive, culminating in a pass from Lopez to Fannin for eleven yards and a touchdown, gave the Pack their final score. "Bum" Heier had to be carried off the field when he hurt his leg near the end of the game. He had played a brilliant game until injury forced him out.

CENTENARY GENTLEMEN TRIUMPH OVER LOYOLA, 6-0 OLD MAN WEATHER TAKES PROMINENT PART

LOYOLA STADIUM, Dec. 7.—(WP)—A beautiful 58-yard run by Jake Hanna, clever Centenary back, in the first quarter of the game, was sufficient to beat Loyola here today when the Gentlemen from Shreveport tied up with the local Wolves. The score was 6 to 0 at the end of a game played in mud and slush that made real football impossible.

Hanna's run was perhaps the only bright feature of the game. Neither team could do a thing with a ball so slippery that the referee couldn't hold it. Neither team appeared anxious to have control of the ball, so afraid were they of fumbles. Joe Tetlow did get away on two occasions, once for twenty and again for thirteen. Lopez got loose in the last quarter for sixteen yards.

Loyola's backs gained a total of 167 yards from scrimmage to 152 for Centenary, and made ten first downs to six by the gents. The Wolves threatened to score in the third quarter when Heier carried the ball to Centenary's 11-yard line. Lopez got two, Bridges one and Heier two. With six yards to go to tie up the matter, Lopez passed to Fannin, and a Gentleman knocked it down to end the threat.

Willis, big Gent tackle, was a thorn in the side of the Wolves. He was in every play and was never really blocked out by the Loyola forwards.

LOYOLA OF CHICAGO DECISIVELY WHIPS SOUTHERNERS OLD MAN WEATHER TAKES PROMINENT PART AGAIN

LOYOLA STADIUM, Dec. 22.—(WP)—The Ramblers of Loyola of Chicago rambled down from the North this afternoon and beat their Loyola brothers of the South decisively by a 26 to 6 score. It was the second contest of the year between the two Loyolas and broke the deadlock that had existed since Armistice Day when they played a 6-6 tie in the rain.

Today's game was played for charity, being the annual Doll and Toy Fund contest sponsored by the Times-Picayune and the Young Men's Business Club of New Orleans. Intense cold and overcast skies kept the crowd down to several thousand shivering spectators.

It was apparent from the outset that the Southerners had no chance with their faster and more aggressive Northern brothers. An all-Irish backfield consisting of Collins, Molloy, Burke and Flynn smashed the Loyola line to bits, scoring a total of four touchdowns. Every part of the Southern line wilted under the attack except that portion that was guarded by the big Dutchman, Clem Sehart. Sehart was a tower of strength in the forward wall and his fight maintained the courage of his mates about him.

A steady march from midfield in the last period gave the Wolves their only score. Led by Bridges and Peskin New Orleans worked the ball down to the two-yard line, where Lopez carried it over. This game closed the 1929 season for the Wolfpack.

SMITH

WEST

Frosh Football, 1929

Coach A. D. Smith had a wealth of good but green material out for his frosh football squad during the '29 season—a squad of men from whom Coach Shaughnessy of the varsity should find some capable substitutes for his men who have finished their careers on the grid.

The freshmen played four games during the season, and though they won a single game, they lost the other three by very close margins—some so close that they might justly be called bad breaks.

The game with the hard and heavy Vandy frosh proved that the Wolfpups have the goods that make football players. The frosh played Vandy off her feet in the second half, after the boys from Tennessee had scored nineteen points in the first half. The Pups were going so strong at the end of the game that it appeared they were going to overtake the enemy.

There was a let-down in the Ole Miss game, and the Pups played miserably ragged ball, throwing away several beautiful scoring opportunities, and finally losing the game by an 8 to 6 score.

At Mobile, against Springhill, the frosh never quite got started, and it took them an entire football game to find out they had a game on their hands. As it was, they lost by a single point—7 to 6.

Arnaud Lopez, captain and fullback; Joe Wheeler, tackle; Medis, Woodruff, Brown, linemen, and Monk Zelden, quarter, look like sure shots to play plenty of football on the varsity in '30.

BASKETBALL

FRESHMAN BASKETBALL SQUAD

Season's Record

Basketball commanded little if any interest at Loyola this year. The announcement that there was to be no varsity team, with the wealth of good varsity basketball players here, just about killed the sport for Loyolans. A freshman team was organized, made up of fairly good material, and was entered in the A. A. U. League. From the record which is listed below it will be seen that the season was none too successful for the frosh. They won a single game.

The team was made up of Calhoun, Fazzio, Gaudling, and Sarpy, forwards; Love and Knobloch, centers; and Zelden and Scheyd, guards.

TRACK

Cross-Country Track Team

Loyola's first cross-country track team made track history in the winter just past. With but a few green athletes, barring one or two who did have some track work for him last spring, or who have had some prep school experience, Coach Tad Gormley, veteran trainer and track coach, developed a cross-country team which finally won the Southern A. A. U. championship at Baton Rouge.

A long period of preparation and training was undergone before Gormley took his men to Baton Rouge. The old master wanted to have his boys right before subjecting them to the strain of an A. A. U. meet.

Johnny Hunter, who gave promise of developing into a fine distance runner during the 1929 track season, winning three of the four preparatory races in which he was entered, and coming second in the Baton Rouge championship meet, closely followed by Francis Achee, giving Loyola enough points to win.

Hunter's first triumph was in the Police Festival road race from City Hall to Heinemann Park, which he won in 19:04 1-5. Two weeks later he repeated in the A. A. U. citywide road race held under the auspices of the College Pharmacy. His time was somewhat slower than his first performance, it being 27:10. Starting from scratch in the New Orleans Athletic Club's handicap road race on Sunday, December 1, he finished fifth. On the eighth of December, in the St. Stanislaus road race at Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, he was winner in the fast time of 15:15.

Loyola captured the team trophy in all of these events. In the Police Festival race Achee, Schiro, and Leppert followed Hunter across the line, with LaBranche and Hammond sixth and seventh, Everett eleventh and Connor sixteenth. In the College Pharmacy race they won with a total of sixteen points scored through Hunter's first, Achee's second, Leppert's third, Schiro's fourth, Saucier's fifth, Hammond's seventh, Connor's tenth and Everett's twelfth.

Hammond, favored with three minutes handicap in the N. O. A. C. race, finished third for Loyola. Hunter, Leppert, Achee, Schiro, and Connor finished fifth to ninth, respectively.

Hunter, Achee, Leppert, and Schiro finished one-two-three-four in the St. Stanislaus race at Bay St. Louis. Hammond, Saucier, and Connor finished sixth, seventh, and eighth.

Hunter and Achee, who is captain of the team, were members of the 1929 Loyola track squad, both being distance runners. Hunter is a product of St. Stanislaus, where he did little running, and Achee is a graduate of Springhill High, where he took no part in track events.

With the exception of Schiro of St. Stanislaus, LaBrache of White Castle High, and Saucier of Biloxi High, the other Loyola runners are all products of the local Jesuit High. The most noted of these is George Leppert, who was the city's outstanding miler for the last two years.

THE 1930 TRACK TEAM

TRACK

Looking over prospects from a pre-season viewpoint, there is every indication that the team will achieve a more marked success than that of last year.

Tad Gormley is a track coach without an equal in this part of the country. He gave Loyola its first representative team last year, which, though not carrying off many first honors, made a worthy start. There can be no doubt of the veteran trainer's knowledge of the sport nor of his ability to impart this knowledge to his pupils, so that the results of his work with the track men is being keenly anticipated by those who know the ability contained in the group of men whom Tad will have under his wing.

There will be plenty of material, at least in most of the events. A few gaps left from last year's team have to be filled in, particularly in the field events, so that the hardest part of his work will be in developing a few good players in this section, since this portion of the squad was materially weakened by the loss of some of our stellar performers.

Chief among those whom Tad will have to replace are Tiny Drouhillet, voted Loyola's best all-around athlete two years ago, who broke all Southern records with the shot and shattered the S. I. C. mark in the discus event. Another reliable stand-by no longer under Loyola colors is Zeke Bonura, who used to work wonders with the javelin and discus. While still in high school, Zeke broke the national javelin record.

In addition to these, Tad will lose Prescott Smith, mainstay of the middle distance, Aubrey Budge, a hurdler of no little ability and a fair high jumper, and J. Y. Gilmore, the "blond flash" of the short distance runs. With the exception of these and a few others, the track squad remains intact, and if Tad can develop a couple of men to replace them, he will have a group of tracksters that will be hard to leave behind.

The cross-country team, which has been taking part in A. A. U. events for the past two months, is in excellent form before the official opening of the track season.

Francis Achee, leader of the cinder squad, and Johnny Hunter can be depended on to hold their own in the long distance events. Freshmen aspirants out to test their mettle in this line are John Schiro and Max LaBranche, both members of the cross-country team.

In the middle distance runs and relays the Maroons will probably make their chief bid for honors. With Emmett Toppino, Joe Blasi, Bum Heier, George Leppert, speedy Jesuit High record-breaker, "Top" last year equaled the Southern intercollegiate record of 9:35 in the century dash, and will again be Tad's ace this year.

Bum Heier will again be heard from this year. He comes mighty near being an all-around performer, taking part in the high jump, the broad jump, the hop, step and jump, the high and low hurdles and the 220. Blasi is a capable broad jumper, but Joe Tetlow, who still holds a prep school record for the hop, step and jump, will be unable to report out for track this year.

The team is far short of material in the field events. Only a few regulars have reported back from last year, chief among whom are Johnny Oulliber, Scary Fanin, Pee Wee Allen and Marvin Chacere.

ACHEE, Captain

OTHER SPORTS

TENNIS

RESUME OF LAST SEASON

Tennis, as a minor sport, was recognized at Loyola for the first time last year. There had been a tennis club for some time, and tournaments had been held among the students for several years. However, tennis was made a minor sport and a team was picked for intercollegiate competition.

Several men from the university reported and after an elimination contest the following men were selected: Dick Drown, who was elected captain; Claude Veglia, Charles Carter, John Oulliber, and Victor Choppin.

Although playing stronger and more experienced teams the varsity squad fared considerably well in their initial year. In the first meet of the season with Louisiana State University, in Baton Rouge, the Wolf netmen were defeated by a 5 to 1 score, John Oulliber turning in the only victory.

The second encounter was with Centenary, on the local courts, and was won by the boys from Shreveport. Captain Arch Holder, captain of the Gents, was too much for the Wolves, and proved the deciding factor in two of the three matches played.

The third and last meet was with Southwestern, at Lafayette. The Wolves were again defeated by a score of 5 to 1. Each match was a close one, the teams being more evenly pitted than the score indicates.

The sport is expected to improve its standing in the university this year, as all of last year's team, with the exception of Captain Dick Drown, will be back.

Intramural Sports

HANDBALL

The Pharmacy Department, for the third consecutive year, furnished the champions of the annual doubles handball tournament, Weilbaecher and Wingerter emerging as winners.

The tournament this year was run on a slightly different basis. Formerly the play was by elimination, each team playing an opponent until one survived. This year the winners from each department played a round robin to decide the winner.

In the eliminations in the various departments four teams won the right to play in the round robin. They were Weilbaecher and Wingerter, Pharmacy; Pietri and Jurgens, Arts and Sciences; Bodenger and Morris, Dentistry; and Calongne and Byrnes, Law.

Weilbaecher and Wingerter defeated both Byrnes and Calongne and Bodenger and Morris. Jurgens and Pietri also turned in victories over the same teams. The final and deciding game went to the Pharmacy team by the scores of 11-4, 11-8. This match was interesting and closely contested throughout. The champions were awarded gold handballs, donated by the Student Council, while the runners-up, Jurgens and Pietri, received silver ones.

BASKETBALL

The strong Junior Arts and Science team won the big intramural tournament held in Loyola gym, decisively whipping every opponent. This team, intact since the freshman year, has never been beaten, and won the championship in 1928 and 1929.

The deciding game was played against the Freshman Pharmacists, champs of Bobet Hall, and ended in a 32-11 victory for the Juniors. Pietri, invincible center on the Junior team, made nineteen points in this game. He looked good enough to make a million. He was closely followed for scoring honors by Skelly Wright, a good forward. The team was made up of Fischer, Caillouet, and Wright, forwards; Pietri, center and captain, and Roniger, Judge, Grosz, Chopin, Rizzuto, and Blessing, guards. The champs received gold basketballs for their splendid efforts.

FUN

the wolf LAFFS

Mark Twain listened to a speech made in the Senate by a distinguished statesman. The humorist met the politician later in the lobby and thought he would have a little fun with him.

"Do you know, sir, I have a book at home (and a very old book) that contains every word of that speech you just delivered?"

The Senator waxed wroth, and highly indignant replied: "I insist that the speech was entirely original. I would not stoop to such a contemptible thing as plagiarism. I defy you to produce the book you mention."

A few days later the Senator received the copy of the book. Twain had mailed him an old copy of Webster's dictionary.

"SAY, LOWRY, I THINK A WHEEL IS COMING OFF!"
"ONEY WITH ME, GRACE; I'M KINDA TIRED OF THAT OUT-OF-GAS GAG, MYSELF!"

LADY: "DOES HE SWEAR?"
CLERK: "COME ON, POLLY, SWEAR FOR THE LADY!"

Ponzo: "Dearest, do you think you could be happy with a man like me?"

Helen: "Well, perhaps, if he wasn't too much like you."

Shy Young Thing: "I can't stand kissing."

Veteran: "I'll admit it is a bit trying. Shall we find a seat?"

"I had an awful time with Amos last night."

"Amos who?"

"A mosquito."

"These boys are sisters."

"You mean brothers."

"No; they're my sisters' boys."

It was visiting day and the uplifter was on deck.

"My good man," said one kindly lady, "I hope that since you have come here you have had time for meditation and have decided to correct your fault."

"I have that, mum," replied the prisoner in heartfelt tones. "Believe me, the next job I pull this baby wears gloves."

Lecturer: "Suppose I placed a pail of water and a pail of beer on this platform and brought on a healthy, normal donkey, which of the two would he take?"

"He'd take the water," came a voice from the gallery."

"And why would he take the water?" the lecturer asked.

"Because he's an ass," was the reply.

Jeremiah always did possess a soft heart. He wrote: "Dear Mrs. Clark: Your husband cannot come home today because his bathing suit was washed away."—Jeremiah Finnegan.

P. S.: "Your husband was in the bathing suit."

A golfer at the Park Links had played a wretched game up to the ninth green. At the tenth tee, however, he drove a beautiful distance. Exultantly he turned toward the caddie and remarked: "Well, how do you like my game?"

To which inquiry the caddie demurely replied: "I don't know what you call it, sir, but I think I prefer golf."

Jones was quite an absent-minded person. Leaving his office to catch a train the thought struck him on the street that he must have left his watch behind. So he pulled out the timepiece to see if he had time enough to go back for it.

Upon another occasion he reached his office and reading the sign which he had put up stating that he would be back in fifteen minutes sat down to wait.

"Why, Ma, Shakespeare uses it."

"Well, don't play with him any more."

A young Boston negro pugilist who had gained local recognition visited a nearby town to engage in a combat with an Irishman, who likewise had gained local fame. During the early rounds the negro had much the better of the Irishman and inflicted considerable punishment. In the sixth round he floored the Irishman with a punch that apparently had enough power in it to keep him on the floor for the fatal ten seconds. The referee (who also happened to be an Irishman) counted over him thusly:

"1—(Mike, for God's sake get up!)
2—(Mike, are you hurt?) 3—(If you have any regard for your family, get up!)
4—(Don't you see the nigger laughing at you?) 5—(Mike, do you hear me?) 6—(For the love of the old country, get up!)
7—(If you have any red blood in you, get up) 8—(That's the boy, Mike, get up now and kill the nigger!)"

Mike finally staggered to his feet at the count of eight which had really been fourteen seconds and made a terrific lunge at his opponent, hitting him with sufficient force to knock him down, and the referee counted over him:

"1-2-3-4-5- and 5 is ten. You're out, you nigger!"

"I'm on the track," said the detective as he watched the train approach.

"What do you think of prohibition?"

"It takes my breath away."

An Irishman anxious to get on the police force hounded the politicians until they decided to give him a letter to the commissioner, but the signature carried with it that popular little curve which meant to "sidetrack Pat in the usual diplomatic manner."

The commissioner, after reading the letter, told Pat that if he could answer the three following questions he would appoint him: "First, how many stars are there in the heavens? Second, how many hairs are there on my head? Third, what am I thinking?"

Pat could not give an answer to any of them and was turned down. After wandering about town for some time an idea struck him. He would represent himself as his brother, and try again. The questions were propounded again:

"How many stars are there in the heavens?"

"661,468,342," answered Pat.

"How do you know?"

"I counted them, and if you don't believe me count 'em yourself."

"How many hairs are there on my head?"

Pat walked up, and pulling one hair from the commissioner's head, answered: "One less than there was a minute ago."

"What am I thinking about?"

"You think you are talking to my brother, but I'm the same man back again."

He was appointed.

Billy Sunday tells of a woman who was so fat that on falling down she rocked herself to sleep trying to get up.

"Hold it just a minute, John, while I change this wazer"

"Johnnie," said his mother, "I must insist that you stop shooting craps—those poor little things have as much right to live as you have."

James: "There goes the old rascal who swindled me out of $10,000."

Robert: "How did he do that?"

James: "He wouldn't let me marry his daughter."

A young man came into a store and asked for a belt.

"What size did you want?" asked the girl in attendance.

The young man hesitated; then: "Er-it's just about the length of my arm."

"Bey pardon, Cap'n, but I think this looks serious!"

John: "Does your fiancee have much to say?"

James: "No, but that doesn't keep her from talking."

Ducasse: "Can a person be punished for something he hasn't done?"

Chemistry Prof: "Of course not."

Ducasse: "Well, I haven't done my chemistry."

Red Head: "I hate that man."

Blonde: "Why, what has happened? I thought you liked him."

Red Head: "He said I couldn't whistle and just to show him I could I puckered up my mouth just as sweet and round as I could and what do you think he did?"

Blonde: "How should I know?"

Red Head: "Well, the fool just let me whistle."

He: "Are you fond of nuts?"

She: "Is this a proposal?"

Lemieux: "Why are fat men good-natured?"

Duggan: "Because they're too fat to fight, and they can't run very fast."

She's only a moonshiner's daughter, but I love her still.

"What shall I speak about?" asked the pompous visitor who had been requested to address a few remarks to the gathering at a lodge meeting.

"Oh, speak about two minutes," said the man who knew him.

Wanted: "A man to take care of a horse that speaks German."

"Where do the mermaids sleep, daddy?"

"The young ones are rocked in the cradle of the deep, and the older ones sleep in the bed of the ocean."

The boy stood on the burning deck,
Because he was afraid,
He couldn't swim to save his neck
So that is why he stayed.

"How close are we to land, captain?" queried the man who had had enough of it.

"Three miles," was the answer.

"Oh, fine! In what direction?"

"Strait down."

"My poor man," said the sympathetic lady visitor at the penitentiary, "Have you any plans for the future?"

"Yes, thank ye, mum," he replied, "I have the plans of two post offices and a bank."

A COLLEGE STUDENT'S DICTIONARY

Alcohol—A liquid good for preserving almost anything but secrets.

Automobile—From English "ought to," and Latin "moveo," to move. A vehicle which ought to move, but frequently can't.

Champagne—The stuff that makes the world go round.

Hug—A roundabout way of expressing affection.

Lie—A very poor substitute for the truth, but the only one discovered to date.

Love—A man's insane desire to become a woman's meal ticket.

Mind—No matter.

Matter—Never mind.

Professor—A man who prevents you from going to sleep in class.

"I don't think the warden will mind if I practice my music lessons here!"

A Comparison and a Contrast

A College education has the fundamental duty of fitting the individual to meet everyday problems as they arise. That one is better equipped to cope with the exigencies of human existence after four years training is undisputed. Just as college fortifies the student with the mental equipment necessary for a well-rounded life, just so does the New Orleans Public Service, Inc. fortify the city of New Orleans with the physical equipment of constant and ever-ready utility service, without which the daily life of the community would be retarded.

Thus far are the fundamental aims of two great institutions similar. An assurance of ready service now is not enough, however, for Public Service. A utility, to contribute to the progress of a community, must not only furnish service adequate to meet present needs, but must constantly expand and enlarge its equipment and service to anticipate the requirements of the future. We of Public Service are proud of our policy of growing ahead of our city, and of the part we play in preparing New Orleans to cope with the problems of expansion which must be met by a thriving, growing metropolitan community.

OF COURSE

...you'll want your own x-ray unit

FREQUENT use of the x-ray is one of the ways by which the public is learning to distinguish the progressive dentist. More and more the leaders in the profession are installing their own x-ray units.

They find that making their own radiographs enables them to render better service, to make their time more profitable. They soon become expert in interpretation. And this ownership of an x-ray unit proves to be not an expense, but an investment from which they get a steady yield.

The Victor CDX Dental X-ray Unit has been a great factor in creating this vogue for individual ownership. The Victor CDX hangs suspended from the wall. It is electrically safe. Both transformer and tube, insulated in oil, are enclosed in the tube head. There is no high tension current exposed anywhere. You and your patient can touch the CDX anywhere while it is in operation. There is no danger of shock.

Let us send you the facts drawn from the experience of successful practitioners about this modern unit. It makes radiography almost as simple as photography. As you start out, you cannot afford to be without this important tool of your profession. Ask us for details of monthly payment plan.

POST SCRAP

Now that the work of getting this thing together has been completed, the editor throws his feet upon his desk, takes a good healthy yawn, his first healthy one in more than a year, and decides that it's about time he had his say.

As is customary with all editors, we must indulge in the usual gripe—the usual gripe of editors being that the student body fails utterly to co-operate in student publications. Most of the time a mere handful of us get together and do the entire work connected with a student publication. Last year Jacques Yenni and his assistant put the 1929 “Wolf” together without the benefit of outside assistance. This year the new editor had visions of a thriving, energetic staff of about fifteen willing workers, of a six hundred student body to back him up in the work. The fifteen willing workers turned out in reality to be about five. Did we become disillusioned? Not a little bit.

When this issue of the “Wolf” is distributed on the campus we expect to be besieged with complaints, with disappointed students who don't like the way their pictures were printed, who think their first pages are terrible, etc., etc. There are so many radical changes in this issue that the change is bound to be shocking. Remember when women first began to cut their hair? Shocking! Remember when they began to smoke? Worse! Those were radical changes, but we're used to them now. We hope it won't take the student body long to get used to the many radical differences found in the 1930 “Wolf.”

Now that we have that off our chest, a few words of praise here and there for those who did render invaluable assistance to us would not be amiss. Father Ruggeri deserves a world of praise for the encouragement we received from him. He gave us free rein, and said put out a book. We did, and hope we vindicated his judgment in allowing us so much freedom. Vic Choppin, our copy editor, and the steadiest man on the staff, worked his head off for us. So did Felix Lozes and Casey Zinser, two of the smoothest-tongued ad salesmen it has ever been our pleasure to meet. Roy Hickman, of the Alabama Engraving Company, comes in for an abundance of our thanks. He was really a member of the staff, and far more interested in the "Wolf" than the average staff member. Mr. W. A. Benson plans a book as well as a book can be planned. Many of his fine ideas were incorporated into the 1930 publication.

Fellows, we tried to make this "Wolf" a popular issue, whether you think so or not. When you are tempted to criticise, ask yourself the question: "If I were in his place, could I do any better?" or "Would I even accept such a job, with the great amount of school work and other duties I must perform?" Let's be fair, and talk this thing up. The more we help, the more we encourage, the more we boost the things of Loyola, the greater will our university become.

We can begin now to set the example for future Loyola classes. Show them that you believe in your school, in everything that is connected with it. John Keble had almost the same thing in mind when he wrote this:

THE EFFECT OF EXAMPLE

*We scatter seeds with careless hand,
And dream we ne'er see them more;
But for a thousand years
Their fruit appears
In weeds that mar the land
Or healthful shore.
The deeds we do, the words we say—
Into still air they seem to fleet—
We count them ever past;
But they shall last—
In the dread judgment they
And we shall meet.
I charge thee by the years gone by,
For the love's sake of brethren dear,
Keep thou the one true way
In work and play,
Lest in that world their cry
Of woe be heard.*
